

Sanctuary of the Magdalene

Covenant of the Living Light

I know and affirm that God is One in Spirit and in Truth; Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer; ever-creating, ever-loving, ever-forgiving, ever-present in all that is.

I know and affirm that the human soul is eternal, created in perfect oneness with the Creator and with every other soul; one in total goodness and one in total harmony with Spirit and with matter.

I know and affirm that with physical incarnation comes the illusion of separation; separation from the True Self, from all other souls, and from the Source of all Light, Life and Love.

I now commit myself to returning Home as a Being of Light, following the sacred path that my soul chooses for me.

I now commit myself to honoring the path of all other souls, knowing that there are many roads Home and that the one I have chosen, while unique and right for me, is not the only way.

I now commit myself, to the best of my ability, to harmlessness in thought, word and deed towards any other soul.

I now commit myself to work in loving service on behalf of all other souls as we travel Home along our chosen sacred paths.

I now commit myself to the creation of a new covenant, and to the building of a new heaven and a new earth on this planet of Light, knowing that the future is now and that no limits exist within the circle of the rainbow as it unites in the Oneness of the Light.

I offer praise and thanksgiving to the Source of all Light, Life and Love for the perfection that I am, for the opportunity to serve the Light in love and joy, and for all other souls who share this journey with me. I look forward with patient yearning to our shared homecoming in the Light.
